THE CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS.

289 Names on List—Total Pension Fund for Oconee, $17,340.00.

Following is the list of names of Oconee Confederate pensioners as furnished us from the Pension Department in Columbia. The list furnished us does not show the classification of the several pensioners, but each pensioner will know his classification and can determine the amount he or she will receive. In order to make the fund for Oconee run out as nearly even as possible it was necessary to make a difference of one cent in the amount to be received by pensioners in Class B. One hundred and sixty in Class B will receive the sum of $44.37, while thirty in the same class will receive $44.36.

The list is apportioned and divided as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Pensioners and Pensions. Rows include Class A ($90.00), Class B ($44.37), and Class B ($44.36).

Notice to Pensioners.

The pension money has been received. All who can conveniently do so are requested to call at my office and get their money. Checks will be mailed to the infirm and those at a distance as soon as possible. Remember, however, that every one cannot receive his or her check first. V. F. Martin, Judge of Probate, and Ex-officio Clerk of the County Pension Board.

ANDERSON BANK CLOSES DOORS

Affairs of Farmers' and Merchants' Bank in Hands of the Examiner. (Anderson Mail, April 25.) The affairs of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. were taken over early this afternoon by State Bank Examiner Jas. H. Craig, and the doors of the institution were closed. When seen by a representative of the Daily Mail and asked for a statement, Mr. Craig said: "I was called into consultation by officials of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank yesterday afternoon, and this afternoon I decided to take over the affairs of the institution for a few days in the hope of putting into effect an arrangement whereby the bank can be reopened and business resumed in a short while. A meeting of stockholders of the bank is being called for the purpose of considering this plan. The arrangement has been used successfully in other localities where banks were temporarily embarrassed, and if I can get the plan put through here everything should be all right within a very short time. I believe the depositors of the bank will be paid." The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank is one of the oldest banking institutions in the city. No statement of the bank's financial status was to be obtained this afternoon.

COTTON ASSOCIATION TO MEET

Hon. H. C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, to Deliver Address.

Columbia, April 25.—Hon. Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has been invited to deliver an address at the semi-annual meeting of the South Carolina Division of the American Cotton Association, which will be held in Columbia, at Craven Hall, on Wednesday, May 4th, at noon. Senators Dial and Smith are urging his acceptance of the invitation, and definite answer is expected within the next few days.

The meeting on May 4 will be devoted to co-operative marketing, and of that day plans for the formation of a State-wide co-operative marketing association will be outlined. Preliminary meetings have been held in different sections of the State, and officials of the association believe that the people are ready for the campaign.

On Tuesday, May 3d, a central committee composed of 24 representative farmers will meet and formulate plans for the formation of the association. These plans will be announced at the meeting on Wednesday.

Every farmer in South Carolina is invited to the meeting on May 4, and it is expected to be the biggest meeting of farmers ever held in the State. Fifty delegates have been named from every county in the State, but everybody is welcome to the meeting, whether they are delegates or not, or whether they are members of the Cotton Association or not.

SUITS FOR A MILLION DOLLARS

Have Been Filed in Charleston for Recovery from U. S. Government.

Columbia, April 25.—What is thought to be the largest amount involved in any civil litigation in South Carolina is that sought in the suits brought against the United States government for determination of the purchase price of the land on which the so-called Port Terminals, at North Charleston, are located, the cases to be tried at the term of Federal Court which starts in Charleston on May 3. The Port Terminals cases, as they are called, are on the docket of the May term, this information having been received by the Federal Court officials here.

It is said that the amount involved in the litigation is more than a million dollars. The former owners of the land on which the port terminals are located are suing the government for the amount of money asked as the purchase price of the land. The government does not want to pay the price asked, alleging that this is too high.

There are four cases in this litigation, each brought by one of the owners of the land on which the terminals are located. The owners are the Filbin Company, the Charleston Farms Company, the Lockwood Co. and the Seaboard Air Line Railroad.

by Rev. Jones, pastor of the Salem Baptist church, and Revs. Wade Nicholson and C. R. Abercrombie. After the services by these ministers the body was taken in charge by the American Legion members, who laid their comrade to rest with fitting ceremonies.

REFERRED ONLY TO CONDITION.

Supervisor Says He has Not Sought to Place the Blame.

Editor Keowee Courier:

Please allow me space in your paper to correct a wrong impression that seems to be abroad. It is said by some of our delegation that in a statement in your last issue I was placing the blame upon our delegation for being out of funds with which to proceed with my work.

I did not intend to leave the impression that they, or any other one individual, were responsible for the condition of affairs.

I wish to state to the public that I have at no time blamed them, and that immediately upon my bringing the matter to their attention they all came to the Supervisor's office at Walhalla on the 22d of April, and we, together with the Treasurer of the county and members of the board, discussed the situation, and we think we have solved the problem of obtaining some money, with their assistance, whereby we may be enabled to proceed with our road work.

I wish it distinctly understood that I am not criticizing or blaming any one man or set of men for the unpleasant condition in which I have found our county, and have only been trying to bring the facts of the situation before the people, and I will continue to have published these facts as they come to my knowledge, for I feel that they are of vital interest and grave concern to every citizen of our county.

Very truly yours, J. C. Shockley, County Supervisor, West Union, April 25, 1921.

Three S. C. Postoffices Raised.

Washington, April 23.—It was announced at the Postoffice Department to-day that Smoaks, Pinewood and Frogmore, in South Carolina, had been raised to the Presidential class of postoffices because of their increased business.

COOK CALLS ON LAW-MAKERS.

Says People Look to Them for Advice and Counsel.

Editor Keowee Courier:

The people of our vicinity would like to hear the sentiments of our Senator and Representatives in regard to the financial troubles of the County Supervisor. We will admit that we are not posted in regard to the laws of our country, but the people naturally look to our law-makers for advice or some explanation on a matter like this. In fact, we do not think anybody else can legally arrange this matter. We know it will be a good, long time until our Legislature will convene again, but it seems to us that the members of the General Assembly and the Supervisor should get together, hold a business meeting and arrange matters. If the members of the General Assembly would promise to appropriate the amount of money needed, they could probably borrow the money from some of the banks until the next convening of the Assembly. We think the only trouble about this plan would be finding a bank that has the money to loan. But just any arrangement will be better than to entirely abandon the rural mail routes until next year.

Yours truly, J. A. Cook, Madison, April 25, 1921.

One-Tenth Population Foreign-Born.

Washington, April 23.—There are 13,703,987 foreign-born white persons in the United States, as shown by the 1920 census, the Census Bureau announced Saturday night.

The total foreign-born population of the United States in 1910 numbered 13,345,545. During the last decade the foreign-born population of this country has increased by only 358,442 persons, or 2.6 per cent. The Census Bureau announces that this small increase is due to the almost complete cessation of immigration during the World War.
